Pink and Red Review Team Purpose, Process and Assignment

Red Team Reviews

Purpose:

To review the final assembled proposal draft prior to submission. This team will be the executive level reviewers who can approve the final submission and commit the organization to the final proposed submission. The goal of this review is to verify that the draft is acceptable to the submitting organization.

Process:

The Red Review Draft will be assembled and distributed to the Red Team Reviewers. The Red Team Reviewers should print a hard copy of the Draft and mark all noted errors and omissions. Reviewers should provide solutions to errors and omissions so the Draft can be corrected following the Red Team Review. Corrections to this Draft should be minor edits. All of the hard copies will be collected at the end of the Review so that the proposal team can revise the Draft for minor edits.

Pink Team Reviews

Purpose:

To review the first assembled proposal draft. This team will be very familiar with the requirements of the submission. The goal of this review is to verify that the draft has addressed all requirements and to identify any gaps or questions.

Process:

The Pink Review Draft will be assembled and distributed to the Pink Team Reviewers. The Pink Team Reviewers should print a hard copy of the Draft and mark all gaps and questions on the hard copy. Reviewers should provide solutions to gaps and answers to questions so the Draft can be corrected following the Pink Team Review. Some answers can be supplied in the Review session by Subject Matter Experts in specific areas. All of the hard copies will be collected at the end of the Review so that the proposal team can revise the Draft.
